In Loving Memory . . .

Jock Prather

We became juniors when Jock graduated, and he was therefore one of us, and he was the first of us to enter the earth. He was class president, yes, student council president, class favorite, and the greatest athlete of Greenhill's history: and all of us have read his array of awards displayed in the foyer. But we remember him better for how funny he was, how hard and furious he played, how he argued and cajoled, how he loved to fight for people's rights — especially the rights of Short People Everywhere. Of friends, he was the best, the funniest, the most thoughtful, the most loyal, though you had to expect him to spend some time now and then chasing girls and working on "Liebchen," his Porsche. None of us look forward more enthusiastically to our own lives than did Jock to his — and a life it would have been, filled with Jock's own kind of strength and gentleness and energy and sensitivity: a life that ended in "sweet dreams and flying machines in pieces on the ground." In his sweet memory we dedicate this twenty-second edition of the Greenhill Cavalcade.

In Loving Memory . . .

Cheryl Clymer

Cheryl's death in mid-September, so soon after Jock's, was a particular blow to us. We remember her smiling an impossible proportion of the time, her being enthusiastic and sympathetic in turn in all our eagernesses and our hurts. We remember how firm she was in the old study halls, how she tried to disguise the fact that her spelling wasn't all that great for an English teacher. How excited she was last year when her husband finished law school, when they found a new apartment, when she finished her own master's work at SMU. How seriously she took being a teacher, how she loved her students, how she built as we put together the open school, but how she loved an "ice day." And now she is gone. Mostly we remember how beautiful she was, how bright, how happy about living and about the future. Nothing can have changed that in her. And to that beautiful memory of Cheryl we dedicate this twenty-second edition of the Greenhill Cavalcade.

The Message Is the Medium.
The Medium Is Land.

That medium plus PEOPLE is our message—the people we are—land research, investment and development programmers—people who are our associates and perhaps most important of all people who are our investors.

The message is one of dramatic and continuing growth, created by people through the imaginative use of land. That imagination often takes form in one of our scheduled Planned Unit Developments now being programmed on some 6000 acres in Texas and Florida. These developments, characterized by open space and greenbelts as an integral part of environmentally sensible clusters of residential, commercial and recreation areas, prove rewarding for our people—the investor, the planner, the builder, the user—but most of all for those who enjoy a full life in a Planned Unit Development.

There's more, much more, happening with us. We'd like to tell you about it, and what it can mean for you.

When you write for our brochure, you'll get the message.

A frog with wire-rimmed glasses and a hot T-Bird named Elsie. Nice guy . . . Ready to help . . . Quietly involved . . . concerned for all. Genius of the Instant Algebra Class, forever trying to explain to Debbie, which was often impossible. If one word could describe him it would be "friend." David can often be found dining at McDonald's or in the Sr. Room fighting for the pinball crown. Good luck, Frog.

I, David Alexander, being of sound mind and body leave to Lisa Z. one center fold-out in next year's annual; to COACH Hartman my track sweats; to J. Conwell one very slightly used #15 football jersey; and to Brennan and Bailey with great appreciation, I leave.

I gladly take this opportunity to state my political opinion concerning the international situation and today the legend lives on. You can experience it in the pride of Cadillac ownership. You can feel it in the driving pleasure you receive — day by day, week by week, year by year, because Cadillac is more than a luxury automobile . . . at this impasse, I choose to cite "Redbook" (The Magazine for Young Women: March 60 cents) Great Spring Fiction Issue! 7 Short Stories and a touching novel by Betsy Drake Grant The Liberated Women: What happens to sex in marriage? How to teach a child to think, a warning about pornography on T.V., 8-page guide to family backpacking, Exciting new fruit desserts, How to buy a house Donna Moron.

To Phil Morrison I leave some genuine antique school spirit, to Dick thirty-two potholders in assorted colors, to Robbie Suzteman a bottle of Mile's Nervine, to Mike Martinez a self-loading match head cannon, to Bernard a green flashlight, and to Jonathan Tensor the absurdity of senior paragraphs, last wills, yearbooks, hills, onions, myself, and close-knit paper towels.

Debbie Bandy

D. B. Green eyes . . . happy . . . daydream believer . . . Homecoming Queen . . . never ending spirit . . . a flash of green and gold. Never understanding her Algebra . . . ironsides . . . constant involvement . . . concern for others. Actively involved with cheerleading, even from her death bed . . . never running out of things to say . . . "Well gang, what's new?" Lots of drive and determination, she'll always be getting what she goes after . . . Typical Capricorn . . . (Capricorns are like that. Yeh, they are) Yes, we will all miss Ole Deb.

I, Debbie Bandy, leave to Mr. K, a bronze copy of "Ole Pinkie," the fabulous 45's I missed, and one more Bandy to go; to Coach Blake one round of ROCK 'EM. SOCK 'EM; and to next year's Head Cheerleader, My wheel chair.

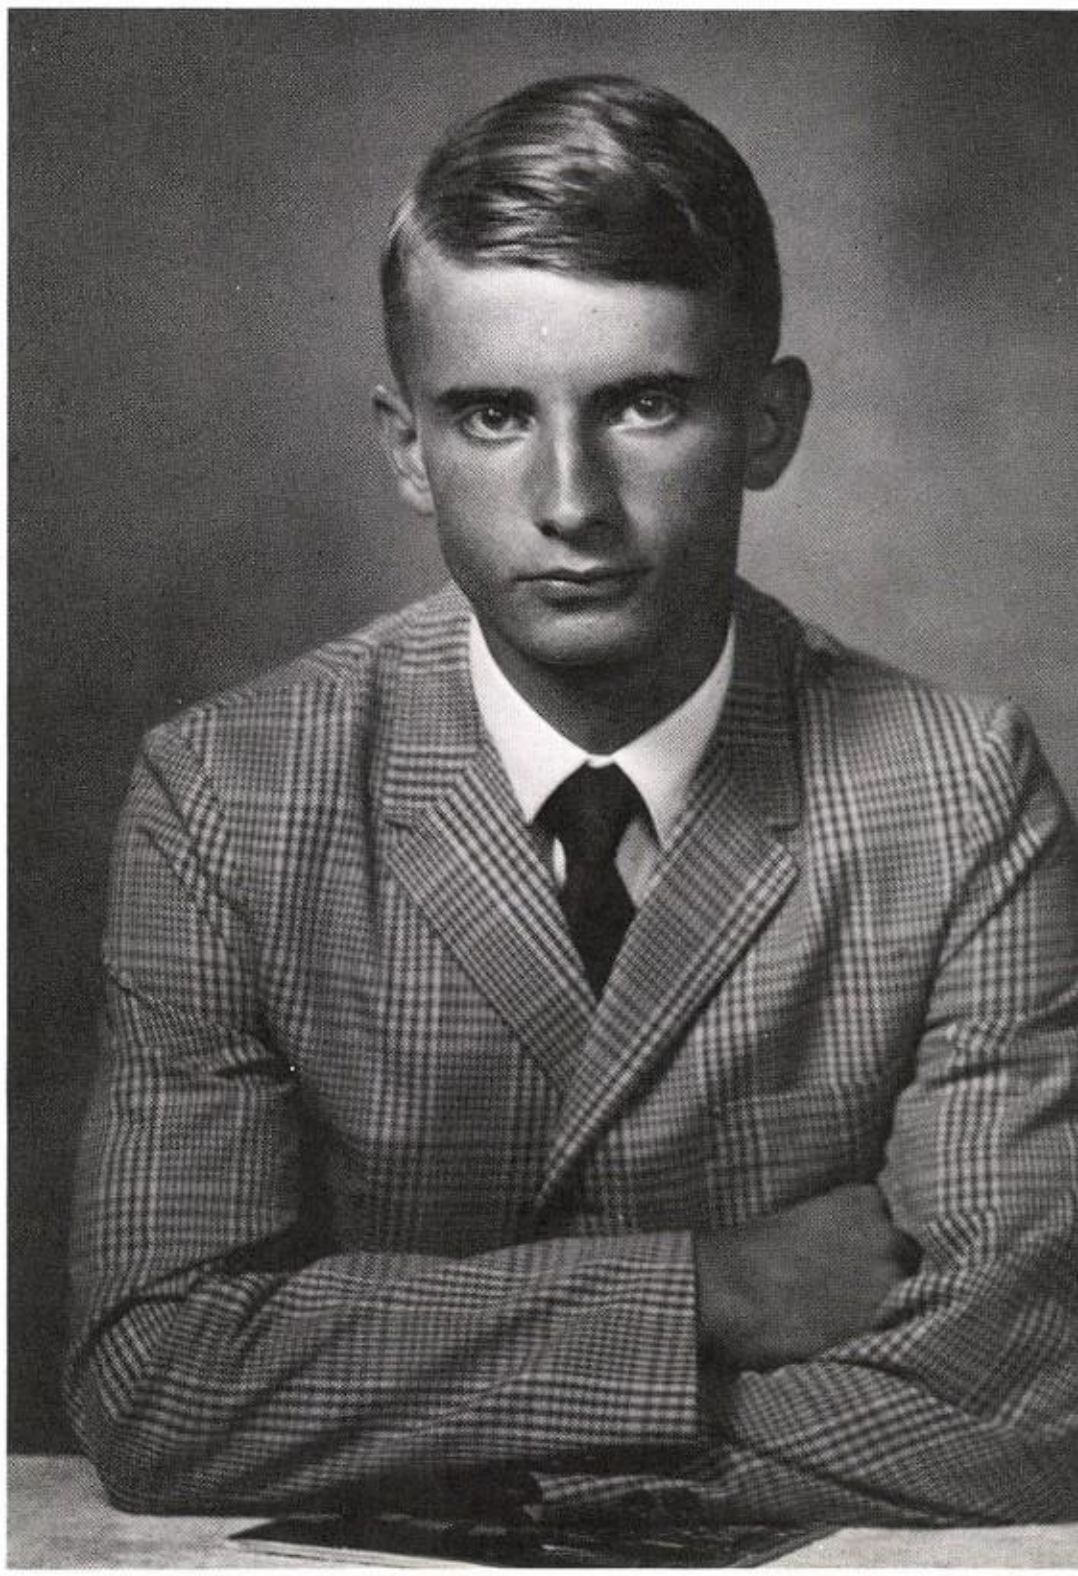
Grant Cate



I leave to Mr. Horner a deep-felt thanks for all his help.

I, Bill Coffey, leave to Joe Gonzales the instructions to the AARDVARK tape-recorder and my mechanical ability in hopes that he will cease to improvise.

Pam Conwell

Pam has been on senior privileges for the last 4 years . . . can often be found driving to Athens or Sherman for a looong weekend . . . loves writing themes in Spanish or listening attentively in Chemistry . . . ever seen a "white" bomb? Pam owns one . . . gobs and gobs of gorgeous blonde hair . . . if you see a blonde girl on a horse down by Lake Fulton . . . that's Conwell . . .

I, Pam Conwell, leave my "excellent" record of attendance to Lisa Zidell; my ability to communicate with teachers to Pam Weston; and to Greenhill — I leave my brother, and another year . . .

Mike Genaro

Sitting in detention, Mike is, for the most part silent, except for an occasional laugh. He just sits there thinking about his next devilish deed. Mike is not really that bad — how else would we be able to preview next year's car styles if it weren't for his blackboard masterpieces? While he is on campus he is quite "estudias," but at lunch time he is always easy to find at the local Goff's. All of us here at Greenhill enjoy Mike's personality and companionship, and know he will prosper in the years to come. His "positive" thinking should give him plenty of "traction" on his way to Texas.

I, Mike Genaro, will to Lonnie Pollock some more horsepower, to Billy a new set of garden tools.

Jenny, she's been here for only one year, but we all feel like we've known her for many . . . a sincere friend . . . easy going and fun to be with . . . always happy and wearing a big smile . . . sometimes even humming a little tune . . . Jenny is always looking for something more to do . . . improving her piano skills . . . helping the little kids and teachers in the Lower School . . . but always having fun . . . remember the body-painting session — yeh!

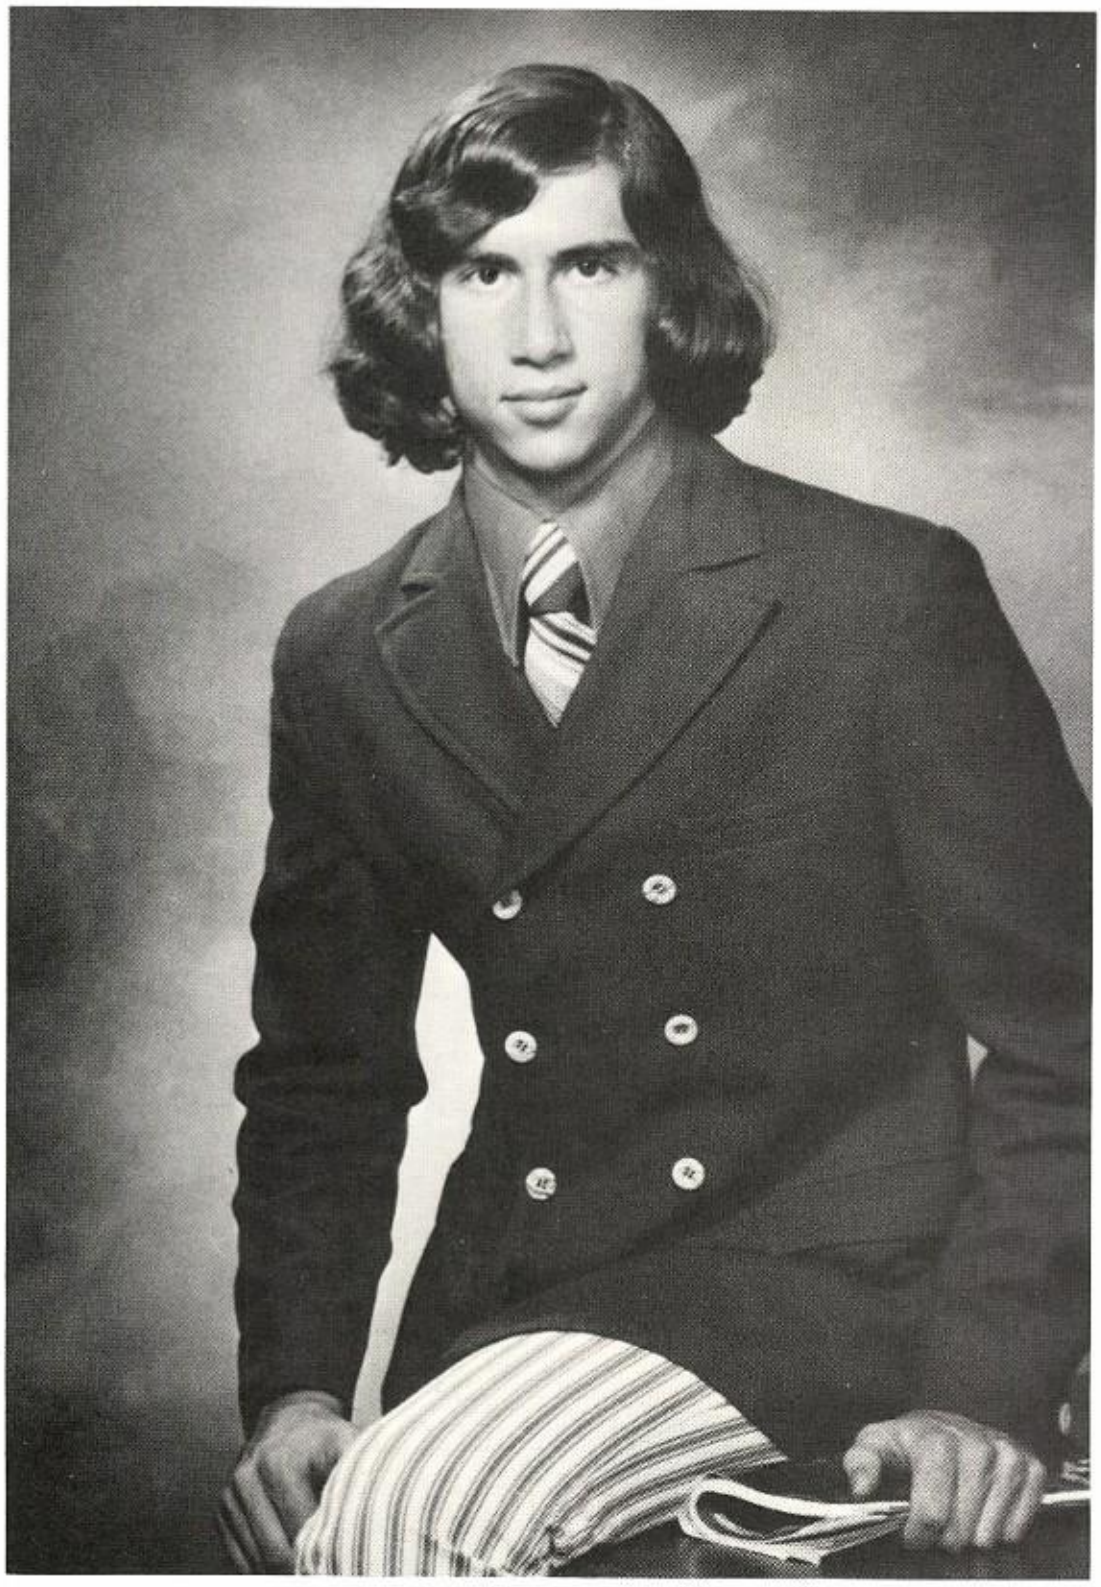
I, Jennifer Claire Melady, being of semi-sound mind and body, leave to Ann McDonald four out of tune pianos and fourteen gazillion hours of frustration in Choir; to anyone who wants them — five one hundreds in Qualitative Analysis, a set of novels read through page 97, a won-der-ful exam grade in Intermediate Algebra, and to Janet Pollman I leave, with best of luck, a position in the 1974 Texas All-State Choir as a second soprano or first alto!



I, Kerry Miller, leave nothing to anybody. I'm taking everything with me.

Wild, occasionally crude — "all animals are equal, but some are more equal than others." Constantly bucking authority, Ken hates to be told what to do . . . "Never saw a wild thing sorry for itself . . ." A need for autonomy and a dislike for materialism. "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark." An affinity for the physical; Ken can be seen lifting weights or playing rugby.

Debbie is one of those unbelievable people you meet every so often that is as close to perfect as you can get. Everything about her is beautiful: her eyes, her smile, her cloak of red hair, her personality, her thoughts. She's one of the most sincere people at Greenhill. When she says "Hi," you get the feeling that she really means it. It's not just a passing thought. She also plays tennis well.

I, Debbie Reichert, leave to Mr. Stanfield my bod for the betterment of science . . . and to Mr. Kittleman, my thanks for filling that "annoying gap."

"The alert student may have noticed that we assumed in the definition of the circular functions that we can measure circular arcs. We now find that we must use the inverse of these functions in the measurement; hence the argument is circular, too. There are ways out of this logical impasse, but they are best postponed to a more advanced course."

The 1971 Greenhill Hornets

THE 1971 GREENHILL VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM

The 1971 Season —

Greenhill fielded a relatively large team this year — 32 players in contrast with last year's 23 — but eighteen of these were new, and it took anguish, polish, and sheer hard work on everyone's part to make a cohesive team.

The season opened auspiciously with a 6-to-2 win over Bishop Gorman. Cooper Blankenship scored the touchdown on a four-yard run behind the blocking of Jim West and Bruce Watson, and ran for the extra point over the blocking of West, Watson and Darrell Hurmis. John Boudreau was the leading tackler of the game with 14 tackles.

But we weren't yet ready for Crandall, whose superior squad was to go on to an undefeated season. Losing five fumbles put Greenhill too far behind to recover in time. John Boudreau led in tackling again, followed closely by Ken Mosesman and Ken Cowens — all with 19, 16 and 15 tackles respectively.

The Hornets bounced back against Fort Worth Christian for a 12-0 win. Cooper Blankenship ran the first goal from the 1-yard line over the blocking of Jim West, Bruce Watson and Darrell Hurmis. Then Cody McCutchin scored the second touchdown, with Jerry Szor and Jim Robison blocking. An outstanding defense by the front four held the Fort Worth team to a negative 7 yards gain and made the game one of which the team could be proud.

Fresh from victory over Fort Worth Christian, the Hornets stormed on to a 26-to-0 win over Trinity Valley. Cody scored in the first quarter with a 13-yard run, and threw the 56-yard pass that enabled Darrell to score in the second quarter. Kevin Cowens ran two great touchdowns for 60 and 40 yards in the second and third quarters, but both were called back to Kevin's and Greenhill's keen disappointment. Jerry Szor made the third official touchdown from the eight with the blocking of Wyn Armstrong, Jim West and Bruce Watson. Cooper took the extra point. Cooper then capped the game with a fourth-quarter touchdown, aided by the blocking of Jim Robison and Robert Morton.

We weren't yet strong enough for Cistercian, though, who defeated us for the only time in their history. Darrell scored on a 49-yard pass from Cody, and also gave us the extra points. But our defense could not stop the Cistercian drive to victory.

Winning days returned again when we came from behind in the final quarter of the Howe game to make it 20 to 14 at the gun. Cody completed 10 out of 17 passes, giving seven of them to Darrel Hurmis who took them for 129 yards and 3 touchdowns. Wyn Armstrong scored the extra points in conversion as a result of a deflected pass. Jerry Szor led the team in rushing — 81 yards — behind the strong blocking of Ken Cowens and John Boudreau.

We kept on winning that high-scoring night on October 22nd when we rolled over Sacred Heart for a 38-22 victory. Cooper and Jerry each scored two touchdowns, and Darrell and Ken Mosesman bagged the other two. Ken brought in the extra points over the able blocking of Wyn Armstrong, Keith Chatham and Robert Morton.

Country Day put us in our place on October 30th, though, when we went down for a 13-0 loss before a strong team that was only to give up 12 points in conference play this season. Darrell Hurmis caught 4 passes for 87 yards, but we could not stop the opponent's running back.

From November 5th on, however, it was to be smooth running for Greenhill's varsity squad as Greenhill handed defeat to Dallas Christian for the first time in six long years. Cody McCutchin ran the opening kickoff 85 spectacular yards, and Kevin Cowens, Darrell Hurmis and Ken Mosesman made the touchdowns.

The teamwork to unify the Hornets paid off in a fine 7-3 season that wound up on November 12th with the Hornets' victory over Northwest Academy 14 to 6. Jim Robison ran 35 yards for the first score, and Cooper ran 65 for the second, with blocking by Robert Morton, Jim Robison and Jerry Szor.

A season we could all be proud of . . . one which made us all know that Brennan was Back!

THE 1971 GREENHILL VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM
rear: Scott Beard, Jim Robison, Tom Box, Coach Bruce Long; front: Rick Miller, Martin McCord, Kevin Cowens, Darrell Hurmis

The 1971 Season —

Greenhill brought victory to a rebuilding season, winning 17 games and losing 12 in the 1971-72 effort. Led by returning lettermen Martin McCord and Kevin Cowens, the Hornets put the season together with two wins in their final two games at the year-ending SPC tournament. Unable to defeat either Dallas Christian or Trinity Valley, Greenhill placed third in the Texas Independent Schools Conference.

Sophomore Jim Robison, a forward who also played guard, had his best game against Venus in the Red Oak Tournament. He hit 10 points and pulled in 8 rebounds. Jim gave the Hornets good bench strength throughout the year.

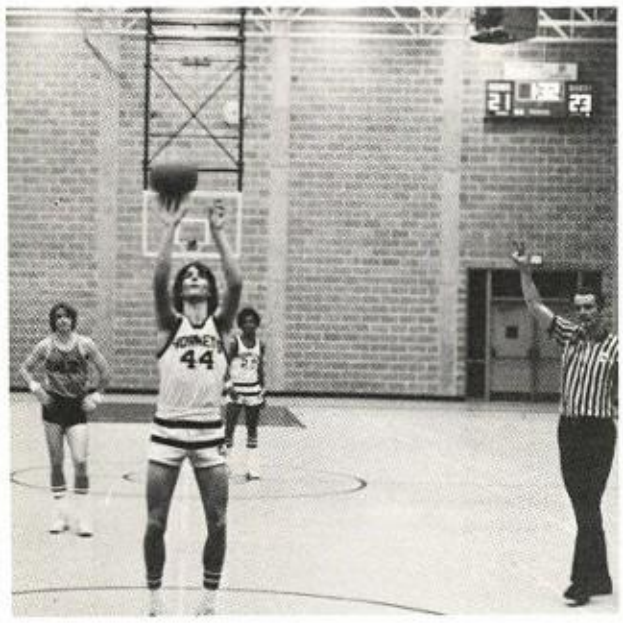
Scott Beard, also a sophomore, came off the bench several times during the season to steady the Hornet effort. One such game was against Wichita Collegiate. Scott sparked the team with one steal and four assists in the second quarter. Greenhill went on to win 65-57 in overtime. Scott led the team in free throw percentage with 64%.

Tommy Box, the only starting sophomore for Greenhill, added strength to the Hornet five as he averaged 7.0 points per game and 5.0 rebounds. He played well in the Hornet's first win over Kincaid, rebounding 10 times and scoring 8 of Greenhill's 51 points. And against Wichita Collegiate, Tommy hit 12 points, including a crucial basket in the overtime period. Tommy scored in double figures in a third of Greenhill's games, including a 14-point barrage against Cistercian.

Darrell Hurmis, a junior, quickly became known as Greenhill's 5'9" jumping guard in the 1971-72 season. He tied Rick Miller as the team's second leading rebounder — 7.8 per game — was second in the steals department — 2.6 per game — and showed a cool head and a great deal of unselfishness in leading the Greenhill five in assists — 3.6 per game. Darrell averaged 8.2 points per game, scoring 22 points against Trinity Valley and 10 and 14 points against Fort Worth Country Day. Perhaps his most inspired play came in a double overtime losing cause against Palmer when he finished the game with 12 points and 11 rebounds. He set a team record with 13 assists against Wichita Collegiate. Darrel was elected to the Second Team All-Conference TISC Squad.

Kevin Cowens, also a junior and a co-captain, took over the quickness department for the Hornets, leading the team in steals — 3.0 per game. He was Greenhill's second leading scorer at 12.5 points per game, and second in the assist category at 2.7 per game. Kevin scored in double figures in 16 of the 27 games he played, having particularly good nights against Palmer — 26 points and a 57% field goal average — Sanger, when he scored 21 of our 55 points, and Cistercian, scoring 29 points and pulling a 42% field goal average in two games. He was awarded Honorable Mention All-Conference Honors in both SPC and TISC play, and made the All-Tournament Teams at Crandall and Red Oak. Kevin set a Greenhill team record with 10 crucial steals in the 63-59 victory over Frisco.

Rick Miller, one of Greenhill's two starting seniors, brought his game together in the second half of the season, averaging 16 points per game in the last 13 games. He was second in three statistical categories: rebounds — 7.8 per game; field goal percentage — 37.4%; and free throw percentage — 59.4%, including one string of 13 consecutive successful free throw attempts. Rick played an incredible game against Cistercian, scoring 10 of 25 points in the fourth quarter and pulling in 12 rebounds. He shot 56% from the field and 100 % from the foul line. He made 3 crucial steals and four points in the closing minutes of the Wichita Collegiate victory ending his one year basketball career on a sweet note. Rick proved to be a most sought after target on the receiving end of the Hurmis to Miller fast break combination, scoring many demoralizing layups during the year.



Martin McCord, senior co-captain and the only returning starter from the championship 1970-71 Hornet lineup, solidified the team at his center position. In twenty-six of the twenty-nine games, Martin scored 10 points or more. He hit 20 points against Sanger, 25 against Palmer, 24 against Frisco, 20 against Ft. Worth Country Day, and 21 against Ft. Worth Christian. Martin led the team in rebounds (9.3 per game), scoring (14.6 per game) while shooting a blazing 49.6% from the field. He showed great hustle for a 6'4" player; from the first of the season he led the team on fast breaks after playing solid defense. Martin set a team record for consecutive free throws made; he hit 16 straight over a 3 game span. He played his best game against Kinkaid, scoring 19 points and grabbing 9 rebounds in the slowed-down Greenhill victory. Greenhill's opponents felt his presence under their basket as he blocked many shots during the year. Martin was elected to the All-Tournament team at Crandall and was Greenhill's only representative on the All-TISC First Team.

The Hornets missed the five seniors on last year's team. It was said that this was to be the year to rebuild. But Greenhill followers became proud of their team that rebuilt with victories and continued the growing tradition of inspired basketball play. It was a season of the unexpected.

Against Palmer, the Hornets scored 50 points in the first half, yet lost in a double overtime as all five starters sat on the bench with five fouls. Yet in the final game of the season against Wichita Collegiate, Greenhill fought back from a 15 point deficit at half time to win by eight points in another overtime game. A rampaging Dallas Christian team dumped the Hornets 82-39 early in conference play. But Greenhill came back to play the Chargers off their feet on foreign soil in a two point loss later in the season.

The Hornet quintet provided many thrills in the 1971-72 season. Coach Long will remember the fine effort of his Hornets next year as he builds his board game from a strong B team squad. Greenhill School lets go of this season only because time requires that it do so. But Miller's athletic talent and sheer good luck will be remembered as will McCord's hustle and leadership. Wait'll next year!
